BIG REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION

Musgrove Building and Blocks on Post Office Avenue
Sold by Mrs. John H. Flint to Louis C. Resnik.

The sale by Mrs. John H. Flint to Louis Resnik, of Musgrove block together with the buildings on Post Office Avenue occupied by the Lunch Box, the Chinese Laundry, the barber's shop, the lunch room and the bakery is the largest transaction in real estate in Andover for many years.

Musgrove Block which was built more than twenty-five years ago contains stores, offices, the rooms of the Andover Club and the assembly halls of the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Scottish Clans and G. A. R.

Presented with Watch Fob

The members of the Fire Engine Company recently presented Charles Hill, the retired chief of the Fire Engineers with a handsome watch fob. The fob is decorated on one side with Masonic emblems and on the other with those of the Odd Fellows.

It has always been the custom of the Company to remember their chief with some gift and although the presentation did not occur until several months after Mr. Hill had retired from the board, the gift was very much appreciated.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

Local Branch Begins Work of Registration and Naturalization at a Meeting Last Night

The Andover Branch of the Republican League of Massachusetts is planning to do considerable work in preparation for the coming fall election, definite and careful work on plans having been made by the officers who met last night in the rooms of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Chairman Bartlett H. Hayes has an efficient and active force of workers ready to help in the work for the Republican party.

The work for the present will be along lines of naturalization and registration. A system has been inaugurated whereby every male resident who is assessed but not on the voting list will be interviewed and will be given assistance if anxious to become a voter. In preparation for the addition of female voters special attention will be given to this branch of the work.

Change in Running Time of Lawrence-Reading Cars

A new schedule for the Lawrence-Reading cars, whereby their time of departure is placed fifteen minutes later, became effective yesterday to continue until Labor Day. This change is made necessary in order to improve connections with the Heading and Malden cars in Heading square.

Cars will leave the Lawrence transfer station for Reading every half hour beginning at 5:45 a.m., until 8:15 a.m., after which they will leave hourly until 3:15 p.m., after which the half-hour schedule will be resumed until 7:15 p.m. Cars will then run hourly, the last car leaving Lawrence for Reading at 11:15 p.m.

Cars will pass through Andover Square twenty-two minutes after leaving the transfer station, being due on Andover hill eight minutes later. That is, when cars are running at hour intervals, they will leave the top of the hill at quarter of the hour; when at half-hour intervals, at quarter of and quarter past the hour.

There will be no change in running time on Saturdays or Sundays.

Tyrian Service Association Organizes Baseball Team

The Tyrian Service Association which directs the activities of the employees of the Tyer Rubber Company has through its committee on athletics, organized a baseball team. The company has contributed generously toward the equipment of the team.

The committee in charge of athletics consists of Samuel R. Harris, president of the Association, John Harnedy, secretary-treasurer and three members of the executive committee, Ralph E. Nash, James Hibbert and John Elder. James Hibbert has been chosen manager of the team.

A strong team composed of Tyer Rubber Company employees played baseball last year and afforded many entertaining evenings to those who enjoy watching a good game. Several of last year's players can be depended upon, notably Holland, who pitched for Tyer last season.

The athletic committee hopes later to organize basketball, soccer and bowling teams.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

All Articles Incorporated in the Warrant Passed by Voters.
Shawsheen Village Sewer Brought Forth Considerable Discussion.

All the articles in the Town Warrant were favorably passed upon and a sum of $58,400 appropriated by a gathering of about two hundred voters who answered the call to the special town meeting held on Tuesday evening.

Article three concerning the proposed plan for the extension of the sewerage system in Shawsheen village was the only article on which there was a protracted discussion; the Board of Public Works and the Finance Committee disagreeing as to the advisability of carrying out the proposed plan in its entirety at the present time. The Board of Public Works finally carried the day and the motion in favor of issuing $40,000 worth of bonds was voted almost unanimously, only a few members of the finance committee voting against it.

The sum of $12,500 was appropriated for the new bridge at Haverhill street, $400 for improvement in Shawsheen village lighting, $2500 for new boilers at the Town House and $3,000 for the printing of a history of the military and civilian activities of Andover in the Great War.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator Alfred L. Ripley at 7:45 p.m. The first article in the warrant, to see if the town would accept the provisions of Chapter 475 of the Acts of 1920 in relation to the construction of a new bridge on Haverhill street over the Shawsheen river under the direction of the County Commissioners was adopted without discussion, the motion being made by Frank H. Hardy and seconded by John N. Cole.

A motion in favor of a bond issue of $12,500 to meet in part the cost of the said new bridge as called for in article two was offered by Selectman Donald as follows:

"That by virtue and in pursuance of the provisions of Chapter 475 of the Acts of 1920 and for the purposes mentioned therein, viz: of meeting its part of the cost of a new bridge over the Shawsheen River, the Town Treasurer is hereby authorized to issue bonds or notes of the Town in the aggregate principal amount of $12,500, the date of said bonds or notes to be determined by the Town Treasurer with the approval of the Selectmen, and payable in annual payments of $2500 so that said loan will be extinguished within five years from its date, bearing interest, payable semi-annually, at a current rate to be determined by the Town Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen.

"Said bonds or notes shall be denominated on the face thereof, 'Shawsheen Bridge Loan, Act of 1920', shall be signed by the Treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the Selectmen and be under the seal of the Town and

Expert Aid in War on Rats

The health authorities of the city of Cincinnati have secured the aid of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture in planning the details of a city-wide drive to exterminate rats. The methods of poisoning and trapping the animals recommended by the department's men who have specialized in work of this sort will be followed very largely. The city has been divided into districts, in each of which a door-to-door canvass will be made to bring home to all occupants of houses, factories, stores, etc., the importance of cooperating in this important movement. A large amount of literature prepared by the department, dealing with rat extermination, will be distributed during the campaign. Special emphasis will be laid on the fact that rats are carriers of disease and are particularly apt to contaminate human food wherever it is accessible.

hear the statement that they are free from taxation in Massachusetts. Principal and interest of said bonds or notes shall be payable in lawful money of the United States at such bank or trust company as the Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen shall elect. Said bonds or notes may be sold at not less than their par value and shall be certified by a bank or trust company to be selected by the Treasurer with the approval of the Selectmen and contain such statements not inconsistent with this vote as the Town Treasurer with the approval of the Selectmen may determine.

The motion was seconded by Thomas E. Rhodes. E. V. French was the only speaker on this article. He said that the entire cost of the bridge would not exceed $15,000, that the county would pay one-half the actual cost, that William M. Wood had offered to pay $10,000 of Andover's share of $22,500, and raised the question as to whether if the cost of the bridge were less than $15,000, Mr. Wood's gift would still be $10,000 or only a proportionate part of Andover's share.

The motion in favor of article two was passed by a unanimous vote, the vote on both articles one and two being verified by a rising vote.

When article three was read for consideration by Moderator Alfred E. Ripley, Mr. Rogers, chairman of the Board of Public Works made the following motion:

"That that portion of a sewerage system shown on plan of John Franklin dated June 1920 on the west side of the Shawshen River, between Stimpson Bridge and Haverhill street in Shawshen Village (so called) be adopted as part of the sewerage system of the Town of Andover and that the town appropriate the sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) for the purpose of said extension.

"That the Town Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen, be and he is authorized to borrow said sum and to issue therefor bonds or notes of the Town bearing interest at a rate to be determined by said Treasurer with the approval of the Selectmen, payable semi-annually April 1st and October 1st, said bonds or notes to be signed by the Treasurer of the Town, and countersigned by a majority of the Selectmen and Board of Public Works, and to be under the seal of the town. They shall bear upon their face the words 'Andover Sewer Loan of 1921' and the statement that they are exempt from taxation in Massachusetts. They shall be dated October 1, 1920, shall be issued in numbered series and shall be payable in accordance with the provisions of Section 8, Chapter 386 of the Acts of 1895, so that the whole loan shall be paid in not more than thirty years from the date of the first bond or note issued or at such earlier periods as the Treasurer and Selectmen may determine. Principal and interest of said bonds or notes shall be payable in lawful money of the United States at such bank or trust company as the Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen, may elect. Said securities may be sold by said Treasurer at public or private sale or pledged at not less than par value for money borrowed for the purposes of this act.

Mr. Rogers opened the discussion on the appropriation advocating the issuing of bonds to the sum of $40,000. Thomas E. Rhodes also spoke in favor of putting the whole thing through at once, saying that deferring and putting off town work had gone far enough, that no one could prophesy the tendency of prices and he doubted whether by delay the town could save anything either in construction costs or interest. He added that a contract would undoubtedly do the larger job for proportionately less money.

In answer to a question by Charles Clark as to whether seventy-five per cent of the cost of the main would be assessed on the property of the abutter, it was stated that the main would be laid over private land with a saving greater than the $6,000 which would be about the sum raised by assessment if the pipe were laid in the roadway.

Mr. Cole spoke in favor of deferring any construction other than what was necessary for the Shawshen village unit, stating that the matter of interest money was not the only point at issue, that labor and the transportation of materials were important questions. He cited the fact that in the whole country less than thirty-five open-top cars had moved during the past week for the transportation of freight other than coal and that these cars were able to carry less than one-third of the coal needed. Though Mr. Cole desired to have the beautiful village of Shawshen have everything it needed, he favored going slowly just at this time providing only for its immediate needs. From a sound business viewpoint he considered that it would not be possible to do the work economically and efficiently at the present time.

Mr. Cole moved as an amendment to the motion that a sum not exceeding $21,000 be appropriated for work on the Shawshen village unit. Upon the suggestion of the moderator the motion was modified to read that the town treasurer be empowered to issue bonds to the amount of $10,000 but that the proceeds of only $2,000 be expended within the next twelve months.

George B. Frost was one of the speakers on article three. He said that the cry of the Board of Public Works was always "Give us money, still more money and more money. They won't tell us what they want to do but always ask for more money. It is impossible to satisfy them. If the lack can be done for $15,000 why should more money be appropriated?"

Mr. Rhodes spoke in favor of the $10,000 bond issue saying that the town could not expect service without money, that the contract was not so large as to interfere with the transportation of the country, that the plan was for the future benefit of the town and should not be deferred for the saving of one paltry dollar concluding with an appeal for the full bond issue and trust in the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Rogers said the board could get the pipe and the labor and that all they wanted was the money to do the work. If they could not get the labor and the pipe, they wouldn't spend the money and the town would lose nothing.

A vote was taken on Mr. Cole's amendment for $21,000, which was lost: a vote on a second amendment for $15,000 was also lost.

After a further discussion in which Messrs. Cole, French, Rogers and Traylor took part, the original motion was put to vote and carried.

The next article for discussion was that relative to an appropriation of $100 for improved lighting in Shawshen village. Walter S. Coleman of the Street Lighting Committee explained that at present the lighting in that part of the town is very poor, the standards being more than 500 feet apart with lights of only sixty candle power. The appropriation of $100 would, according to an estimate by the Lawrence Gas Company, cover the expense of lights of 250 candle power every 200 feet to be maintained from November first until the expiration of the contract.

The sum of $100 was appropriated. Upon motion of Selectman Donald, it was voted to appropriate $2500 for new boilers at the Town House to take the place of those condemned by the insurance company.

Bartlett H. Hayes, presented a new motion to cover the matter of publishing a history of the war, as he understood that the article inserted in the warrant was not legally drawn. His motion was as follows: "That the town appropriate the sum of $2,000 to be paid from the taxes of the present year for the preparation and publication of a history of the military and civilian activities of the town during the World War, this work to be carried on under the auspices of Andover Post, No. 8, American Legion.

Mr. Hayes stated that it was the desire of the Legion to render a service to the town and that if the undertaking were postponed, death and change of residence might seriously interfere with the collecting of information.

Dr. Abbott spoke warmly in favor of the project saying that as a matter of historical record the undertaking should recommend itself to everyone in Andover.

Mr. Cole questioned whether, considering the rise in the cost of paper and labor, $2000 was a sufficient sum for the work. The motion was amended to increase the appropriation to $3000 and it was so voted.

Under new business in article eight, Bartlett Rogers presented a motion for a change in the layout of Haverhill street, but the moderator ruled a motion to give away property of the town of Andover without due notice, to be out of order.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:15.

Home Arrangement to be Feature of Farmers' Week at Amherst

Hot biscuits and strawberry jam!

This 'scrumptiously palatable combination is just one of the treats between meals that the visitors to the Massachusetts Agricultural College during Farmers' Week will be served, and served by the winners of the bread-making contests that the Boys' and Girls' Club members of the State competed in this Spring.

The girls who made the very most delectable and nutritious and generally excellent loaves of bread in their respective counties were awarded, as prizes, a week's entertainment at the Agricultural College, whether they will be arriving in the market, and while buyers are small, the unusual activity shows an abiding faith in the future of the art and gift departments.

Articles of hand-wrought iron, queer, twisted effects, shaped into toasting forks, anvils, tongs, dog-irons, fire screens, cigar lighters and trays, are all selling well.—Dry Goods Economist.

Gifts for the Home

In the constantly increasing demand for better and more beautiful things, as is evidenced in the growth of the art and gift shop, we have an index to our present development. What a real joy it must be to the art and gift department buyer to think that through her department some simple home may have a touch of lovely color! Some bit of a Delft blue bowl may grace the center of the festive board of a young bride or a slender crystal bud vase may gladden the birthday of some dear old lady.

All of the wares along the rows of shelves and tables are joy-givers; their selection indicates an increasing high standard of good taste among the people who buy them. Many buyers are arriving in the market, and while orders are small, the unusual activity shows an abiding faith in the future of the art and gift departments.

Camels—all quality!

CAMELS quality plus Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos pass out the most wonderful cigarette smoke you ever drew into your mouth!

And, the way to prove that statement is to compare Camels puff-by-puff with any cigarette in the world!

Camels have a mild mellowness that is as new to you as it is delightful. Yet, that desirable "body" is all there! They are always refreshing—they never tire your taste.

Camels leave no unpleasant cigarettey aftertaste nor unpleasant cigarettey odor! Your say-so about Camels will be:

"My, but that's a great cigarette".

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes, or ten packages of 100 cigarettes, in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

While retailers of men's and boys' clothing declare that prices for fall must be lower to induce the public to buy, manufacturers are declaring reductions to be an impossibility. Manufacturers take the view that cloth, labor, coal, freight rates and money rates have not only failed to show any reduction, but that costs of several of the items are likely to be advanced. Larger manufacturers are making no merchandise excepting what is actually ordered and they say there can be no overproduction so the supply will just about meet the demand, and prices cannot be lowered.—Dry Goods Economist.

In Department of Public Utilities

Boston, July 13, 1920.

On the petition of the Lawrence Gas Company for a revision of the former order of the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, whereby on September 29, 1919, the maximum net price of gas sold and delivered on and after October 1, 1919, was fixed at not exceeding $1.25 a thousand cubic feet, and for authority to increase said price, the Commission of the Department of Public Utilities will give a public hearing to all parties interested at its hearing room on Wednesday, the fourth day of August next, at ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon.

And the petitioner is required to give notice of said hearing by serving a copy hereof upon the respective mayors of Lawrence and Methuen and upon the respective chairmen of Andover and North Andover fourteen days at least prior to the time of said hearing, and by publication hereof in the "Lawrence Eagle", the "Lawrence Sun-American", the "Lawrence Telegram", the "Lawrence Tribune", the "Methuen Transcript" and the "Andover Townsman", in each of said papers once each week for two successive weeks prior to the time of said hearing, and to make return of service and publication at the time of hearing.

By order of the Commission,
Allan Brooks,
Assistant Secretary

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Monroe K. Fuller, Augustus M. Kendall and Abby E. Garden News

We must all cultivate frequently. Cultivation tends to form a blanket cushion which prevents the evaporation of soil moisture, induces the root system of the plants to grow deeper, and nips the weeds when they are just getting started. Let's see to it that we cultivate at least twice a week. The garden rake will be found a satisfactory implement for this work.

The time has arrived when cutworms are making their appearance. Cutworms attack nearly all vegetable crops at this time of year, especially those that have been transplanted. At this time of year they become active, and seek soft, succulent growth for their food in order that they may complete their growth. Cutworms do most of their feeding at night; they hide in the soil during the daytime.

There are two common methods of control. One method is to wrap a band of newspaper about the stems of newly transplanted plants. The paper band is placed around the stems in such a way that a portion of it will be beneath the surface of the ground when the plant is set. By this method the cutworm is kept away from the stem of the plant. The newspaper band rots within a few weeks and becomes ineffective, and does not retard growth. By this time, however, the ravages of the cutworms will be over. Another successful practice especially valuable on larger plantings and crops like peas, beans, and beets, is to kill the worms by means of poisoned bait. Poisoned bait is made by mixing together 1 quart of bran or coarse flour, 1 ounce of white arsenic or Paris green, 3 pints of water, and 1 pint of molasses. Only a little of this poisoned bait is required. It should be sprinkled around the young plants in the evening.

All garden pea seed should be planted by the present time. Peas are essentially a cool season crop. They at least require planting early in the season in order to be most productive. The pea lice, or Aphids, are much more severe upon late planted peas. Late planted peas rarely yield as heavily as those planted early.

This is the time when plant lice are first making their appearance in the garden. Plant lice, or aphids, are becoming more numerous each succeeding year and are a very destructive pest.

The popular contact spray for plant lice is a 10 per cent nicotine sulphate solution, the common brand on the market being known as Black Leaf 40. Nicotine sulphate should be used at the rate of 1 1-2 teaspoonsful Black Leaf 40, 1 cubic inch of soap per gallon of water. The soap helps as a spreader and sticker for the mixture, and should always be added when the Black Leaf 40 is used alone. If you do not get the bugs, the bugs will get you!

Home gardeners should not forget to put in plantings every ten days or two weeks of string beans, sweet corn, and other vegetables which the family is fond of, in order that there may be a supply of these vegetables available for use over a long period.

Leafhoppers, which are becoming so serious in this section, can be controlled, and should be immediately, or else there will be a worse scourge than anything which the fruit and vegetable grower has yet had to contend with.

Prof. P. J. Parrott, entomologist at the New York Agricultural Experiment Station suggests the following formulas: 1 Black Leaf 40, 3-4 pint; soap, 3 pounds; water, 100 gallons. 2—Lime-sulphur-solution 2 1-2 gallons; water, 100 gallons; Black Leaf 40, 1 pint. 3—Copper sulphate, 2 pounds; lime, 30 to 40 pounds; Black Leaf 40, 1 pint; water, 100 gallons. 4—Copper sulphate, 2 pounds; lime, 2 pounds; clay 20 to 30 pounds; water, 100 gallons.

Leafhoppers at present are a greenish-yellow colored insect to be found on the under surface of the foliage. Most of the hoppers at present are not of the winged stage. It therefore makes it easier to spray at the present time than it will later, when many of the insects will take to the air and it will be necessary to spray the air adjacent to the tree in order to envelope the insects with the spray mist. — Middlesex Co. Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Umbrellas for Fall

Plaid silks are perhaps the most striking note in the fall line of umbrellas. Colored silks, which have attained such pre-eminence in this field, remain leading favorites for fall, but the novelties are plaids and stripes, with plaids leading. Practically no black silk umbrellas for women are being shown, although, of course, they remain the height of fashion for men.

Umbrella handles, which are the most important fashion feature of this merchandise, manifest few changes for the coming season. The pyroxylin handles, which have been so fashionable for the past year, still continue to be favorites. Handle shapes are practically the same as last season, carrying rings and loops being first in demand. Most of these carrying-ropes are also of pyroxylin, although a fair percentage in leather, beads and chains is shown.

There are some novelties being shown in carved wooden handles, bird and animal heads being favored. They are so carefully carved and tinted that although of wood, the feathers, fur or hair seem almost real. These handles have leather carrying-loops, club ferrules and pyroxylin tips and are considered unusually novel. Nothing could be smarter with sport outfits or tailored suits than these clever sport handles.

Some Dresden handles, and also some Glosstone effects, are still being sold to women who prefer the artistic and delicate to the more novel and smart.

Club ferrules predominate, as do pyroxylin tips. Both ferrules and tips usually match the handle in both material and color. —Dry Goods Economist.

JAMES MONROE

1758—(April 28) James Monroe born in Westmoreland county, Va.
1776—Graduated William and Mary. Entered the army.
1782—In the legislature.
1783-86—In the Continental congress.
1787—In the legislature.
1788—In the state constitutional convention.
1790-4—In the senate.
1794-6—Minister to France.
1799-1802—Governor of Virginia.
1803-8—In the diplomatic service.
1809-10—In the legislature.
1811—Governor.
1811-17—Secretary of state.

NO OTHER president, with the exception of John Quincy Adams, has served the country as long as James Monroe and, without exception, none has had an official experience so varied.

From 1776, when he was a vigorous, six-foot, broad shouldered, raw-boned boy of eighteen, and left William and Mary's college to enter the Revolution, Monroe remained in the public service until 1825, when he retired from the White House a wrinkled, care bent, impoverished old man. In those 49 years, he had been a minor military officer under Washington; repeatedly a member of the legislature, a member of the Continental congress and of the national senate; twice governor of Virginia; minister to France, England and Spain; secretary of state and war at the same time and finally president for two terms.

Without wealth or family influence, with a slow, commonplace mind, with no gifts as a speaker; with a modest awkward presence and plain, unpolished manners, this very ordinary man plodded up the ladder of ambition to its topmost rung. How? By sheer force of his rugged, courageous, in-

Although he failed in some of his most important tasks, Monroe's failures were forgiven because they were honest mistakes. The ridicule and the disgrace brought upon him by the most spectacular episode of his undramatic life would have buried forever a man more brilliant and less sincere.

This remarkable scene was enacted on the highly theatrical stage of the national convention at Paris directly after the Reign of Terror and the fall of Robespierre, when France was the outcast among nations. At that moment, Monroe appeared as the envoy of the only sister republic and, to let all the world see that the Revolution had at least one friend left on earth, the president of the convention melodramatically folded the rustic Virginian in his arms.

After two years, he was recalled for his zeal, and came home in a rage of indignation. Passing by the gate of Mount Vernon without paying his respects to Washington, he paid them instead in 500 pages which he published in defense of himself and in denunciation of the administration. Nevertheless, the discredited diplomat was sent to Paris again by President Jefferson in a few years, when he came away covered with success, and with the treaty for the purchase of Louisiana under his arm by a fitting prelude to the Monroe doctrine, 20 years later.

There is a most interesting souvenir of Monroe in Paris. Like Madison, he had fallen in love while a member of congress and had married Elizabeth Kortright of New York. Two children having been born to them, one of the girls was placed in the famous French school of Mme. Campan, where she formed a friendship with Hortense Beauharnais that outlasted the many vicissitudes of Josephine's daughter.

Recently the notable figures in the court of the first consul of Malmesbury were modeled and grouped about Napoleon for a celebrated wax works show in Paris. In that brilliant galaxy of monarchs and dukes yet to be, Eliza Monroe, in girlish prettiness, is seen again by the side of the future queen of Holland and the destined mother of Napoleon III.

LAST OF THE VIRGINIANS

1817—James Monroe, inaugurated fifth president, aged fifty-eight.
1831—July 4, died in New York, aged seventy-three.

MONROE'S administration was the most serene and yet one of the most important periods in the life of the nation. It was an eight years crowded with glorious and lasting victories of peace, such victories as swords never can win.

By a mere exchange of notes between the United States and England, those two jealous neighbors pledged themselves to disarm forever on the great lakes. By a common-sense business transaction, Florida, which was of little use to Spain, but of much use to the United States, was bought over the counter in 1820, a peaceable conquest that ranks only second to the Louisiana purchase. By a civil notice to the old world, in 1823, the whole new world was set aside under the Monroe doctrine as an immense preserve of international peace. By give-and-take in the Missouri compromise in 1820, North and South were bound together anew, though with false ties.

Monroe's two terms cover what is known as the "era of good feelings." The old Federalist party having given up the ghost, he succeeded to the presidency as the last of the Virginia dynasty almost as easily as an heir apparent receives the crown of his father. Washington's second election would have been entirely unanimous had not a New Hampshire elector cast one dissenting ballot.

Yet that "era of good feeling" really was filled with many bitter feelings aroused by personal ambitions and the quarrels of factions. But Monroe formed one of the strongest cabinets in history, and, with John Quincy Adams, William H. Crawford, John C. Calhoun and William Wirt among its members, he succeeded in reconciling to his administration the most divergent elements. In his desire for harmony, he would also have included Henry Clay and Andrew Jackson, but they declined.

One day the British minister glared across the White House dinner table and shouted to the French minister: "Are you biting your nails at me, sir?" The Frenchman responded by drawing his sword, and the two diplomats rushed at each other. But as they were about to clash, the president drew his own sword between them and stopped the fight.

That little incident gives us a picture of the spirit of Monroe and his administration. While he was in the White House, men and factions had to leave their quarrels at the door.

The quiet, modest president was not so successful in keeping the peace among the women of the official circle, and their disputes over social rank and precedence brewed many squalls.

Although Jim Monroe, as he was familiarly called, was the last president to cling to the ancient knee breeches, cockade and sword, he was as plain and easy as an old shoe. When a newly arrived European diplomat saw a bald-headed, watery-eyed man in a striped seersucker coat, a dirty waistcoat spotted with ink and with slippers down at the heel writing at a White House desk, he wondered that the president would have such a slovenly clerk until he was dumfounded to find that he was in the presence of the president himself.

In the six years that remained to Monroe after retiring from the presidency, he set himself, as an ex-president, a high standard of conduct. Having received the supreme honor at the hands of all the people, he felt that his name belonged to them and he refused to lend it to any candidate for any party.

Feeble and alone after the death of his wife, Monroe sold Oak Hill, his Virginia farm, in the closing months of his life. With the feeling of an exile, the last of the Virginians left his native state to live with a son-in-law in New York city, where he died on July 4, 1831.

Will Control Oriental Rugs

What is described as the biggest carpet-making business in the world until the war, operated by a German firm, has been purchased by V. Behar, governing director of Cardinal & Harford, Ltd., High Holborn, London, W. C., according to the Daily Mail, for a price in excess of 500,000. It is understood that American and European business houses have been endeavoring for some time to secure an option on this business.

It is the intention of the new owners to operate looms at Tiflis, Caucasus; Teheran and Hamadan, Persia, as well as in other Eastern centers. In addition a pioneer party will soon start for Tabriz, Persia, to get the large plant there in full working order. Normally this plant furnishes employment to 21,000 operatives.

As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made a force of 1000 British work people will be sent to Tabriz. The British Foreign Office is reported to have promised constant State protection to the various plants and the British people employed in them.

The purchase of the properties named marks the abandonment by the Germans of their hope of cornering the Oriental fabrics industry of the world, as was their declared intention at the time they raised a fund of over 1,000,000 to exploit the industry which for thousands of years has been the principal source of income for the people of Tabriz.

New methods of operation are to be introduced where practicable in order to increase production and facilitate the transportation of the finished product to market. For example, a new railroad and a special line of steamships is talked of, motor vehicles are to supersede camels, and it is even stated that power looms will be employed for quantity production of certain goods, though of course the bulk of the output of the plants will be, as always, hand work.

Clans Plan for Joint Outing

Clan Johnston met Friday night in Garfield hall and delegates were present from Clan Douglas of Haverhill and Clan Grant of Lowell.

Plans were discussed by the joint committees from the three clans for the monster joint picnic and Scottish games to be held at Dooley's grove on Saturday, July 31st. This is expected to be the biggest affair of its kind ever held in this vicinity and some of the best talent will be present and compete for the valuable prizes offered. Keen competition is looked for in the Highland dancing events for which Col. Walter Scott of New York has contributed generously. There will also be races, games and bagpipe competitions.

The local clan entertained the visitors and vocal selections were rendered by Robert Cargill, Robert Williams, Alexander Valentine, Thomas Holden, Alfred Robb, Henry Fairweather, George Page and also by Past Chief MacFayden of Clan Douglas of Haverhill. Henry Fairweather also gave a very fine declamation of Burns' well-known poem, "Man Was Made to Mourn." Brother Walker of the North Adams clan was accompanied. There was also community singing led by Robert Williams, Alfred Robb and Henry Fairweather.

A delegation from Clan Wallace of Beverly will visit the local clan on Friday night, August 6th.

Refreshments were served and cigars provided and a social time was enjoyed.

C. E. Officers

The Christian Endeavor society of the Free church has elected officers for the next six months as follows: President, Wendell H. Kydd; vice president, Randolph H. Perry; recording secretary, Henry Otis; corresponding secretary, Beatrice Goff; pianist, Helen Otis; Minerva Ramsdell; treasurer, Hilda McKenna. Committee chairmen are: prayer meeting, Robert V. Deyernmond; music, Mary Caldwell; lookout, Ruth Saunders; social, Bertha Cuthill; flower, Minerva Ramsdell; press and information, Alfred Harris; missionary, Rev. F. A. Wilson.

Obituaries

JOHN MURPHY

John Murphy of 11 Brechin Terrace died Saturday night at the age of sixty-five in the Municipal hospital, Lawrence, after a short illness.

The funeral was held at St. Augustine's church Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. W. J. McCormick. As an offertory the choir sang "De Profundis." The bearers were Frank Winters, John Kelley, James McCormick, Edward Callahan, Patrick Sullivan, Daniel Shea. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

THOMAS LAKE

Thomas Lake, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Grace Lake of 127 Main street, died Tuesday night after a long illness. He was born in Liverpool, England, and came to Andover seven years ago, attending the public schools in this town. Stricken with an incurable disease, he has borne his suffering with great patience. He is survived by his mother and his sister, Miss Grace Lake, both of Andover.

The funeral was held this afternoon from his late home at 2 o'clock, services being conducted by Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock, pastor of the Free Christian church. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

"Adrift! A little boat adrift!
And night is coming down!
Will no one guide a little boat
Into the nearest town?"

"So sailors say, on yesterday,
Just as the dusk was brown,
Our little boat gave up its strife,
And gurgled down and down."

"But angels say, on yesterday,
Just as the dawn was red,
Our little boat, o'erpeeped with gales,
Returned its masts, redecked its sails
Exultant, onward sped!"

Notice to Legion Members

According to a ruling of the State Branch of the American Legion all members who have not paid their dues for 1920 before August 1st will lose their membership and it will also be unlawful for such men to wear legion pins. It is hoped that all members now on the roll will pay their dues to Arthur Lewis, adjutant, on or before that date.

Commander Cheney has written to Boston for Victory medal application blanks. These application blanks are expected to arrive in a few days and can be secured from the adjutant or from the adjutant, Arthur R. Lewis.

Vice commander Bartlett H. Hayes has taken over the Home Service work which has been carried on so successfully by George Dick since the service was established, and will give advice to all service men whether members of the Legion or not, regarding claims of all kinds and also concerning vocational training.

Local Boys Score in Athletic Meet at Camp Lawrence

Greater interest was manifested in the second of a series of athletic and aquatic meets held at the Y. M. C. A., Camp Lawrence at Lake Winnepesaukee this past week-end. Every camper participated in the events which took the usual two days to run off. The athletic events for the respective groups were as follows: Seniors, 75-yd. dash, running broad jump and four potato races; middle, 100-yd. dash, running broad jump, five potato races; senior, 50-yd. dash, running broad jump, six potato races. Glendenning with 172 points again was the star for the middle, nosing out Vogel by exactly ten points.

Phil French led in the seniors with 223 points topping his nearest man by 121 points. French's speed in the dash gave him the big lead. Lundgren scored 113, Chandler 19 and Weeks 51. An added event was the attempt made by the non-swimmers in shallow water to swim for distance. Those participating in this event were Ralph Tuttle, Weeks, Sewell, Hancock, Donald Anderson and Curnew. Hancock came in first; 2nd, Weeks; third, tie between Lundgren and Tuttle.

The committee is chosen from every department of the concern and the members have been busy in drafting the program which will include all kinds of sports, baseball, football, swimming and track and field events. There will be a tug-of-war, an event in which there is sure to be great competition. Inter-mill races are also on the program as well as open events for both women and men.

"Whiz-Bang" of Smith and Dove Employees August 21

Plans for the "Whiz-Bang" of the employees of the Smith and Dove Mfg. Co. are well under way and will be held on the Athletic association grounds (the old cricket field) on Saturday, August 21.

The committee is chosen from every department of the concern and the members have been busy in drafting the program which will include all kinds of sports, baseball, football, swimming and track and field events. There will be a tug-of-war, an event in which there is sure to be great competition. Inter-mill races are also on the program as well as open events for both women and men.

The side shows planned include Aunt Salie, Fortune teller, wheel of fortune, football shooting as well as shows by the employees from the Machine shop and the dry twisting department. There will be ice cream, tonic, sandwich and hot-dog tables. The privilege of selling candy has been given to Robert Carline and Robert Campbell.

There are enough events planned for the affair to keep a three-ring circus busy all afternoon and it has not been decided fully when the "whiz-bang" will go off. It may be an all day affair but that will be settled at a later meeting.

The program of sports is as follows and valuable prizes will be awarded the winners:

Girls—100-yd. dash, 3-legged race, relay race, 50-yd. dash, married women, relay race, Old Mill vs. New Mill, twice around the field, baseball game, Old Mill vs. New Mill (Old Mill includes office), broad jump, tug of war, shot put, throwing baseball.

Children's Races—Boys under 6, 25 yards; boys under 10, 50 yards; boys under 11, 100 yards; girls under 6, 25 yards; girls under 10, 50 yards; girls under 11, 100 yards.

Men—100-yd. dash, 1-4, 1-2 and 1 mile, once around the field, 45 yards and over; sack race; relay race (old mill vs. new mill each man once around the field); 3-legged race; wheelbarrow race; kicking football; shot put; high jump, broad jump; tug-of-war, old mill vs. new mill; baseball game; live on side, invitation football.

Swimming: (closed event); 100 yds., boys 11 to 16 years; 100 yds., 16 to 20 years; 100 yds., 20 years and over. Longest distance swim under water.

Open events: Men, 100-yd. dash; 1-4 mile and 1 mile races.

Women: 50-yd. dash (married); 50-yd. dash (single).

The "Whiz-Bang" is open to the public. Tickets are now on sale and may be had from members of the committee. There will be dancing during the afternoon and a special floor will be laid for the occasion.

The "Whiz-Bang" is being looked forward to with great interest and a record crowd is expected to attend.

Taking Post Graduate Course

Miss Mary L. Zecchini who graduated from the Lawrence General hospital with the nurses' class of 1919 is taking a post graduate course in public health nursing at Columbia University which she will finish about the first of September. Miss Zecchini has been appointed public health nurse in Methuen and with a view to making herself more proficient, is attending Columbia. She is a graduate of Puncard High, class of 1915.

Her many friends here will be pleased to know of her appointment and wish her success in her profession.

Smith and Dove 9—Defenders 3

Smith and Dove made it three straight under Walter Sidley's coaching and defeated the Defender A. A. of Lawrence, Saturday afternoon on the Athletic Association field 9 to 3. The visitors had Bradley, this year's pitcher for Lawrence High, in the box and the Puncard High boys on the Smith and Dove team gave him a fine lacing every one getting a least one hit while Billy Dalton connected for three clean singles. The home team got away to a big lead and after blanking the Defenders scored four runs in the opening inning. The visitors scored twice in the fifth but Smith and Dove got them right back and added a couple more in the sixth. Each team added a run in the eighth which ended the scoring.

Steve Ellsley pitched for the home team and was in great form, the city team being helpless. He struck out thirteen and allowed but five hits, three of which were made by Helfrich. Dimlich again starred in the field and is improving every game he plays. McKenna and Ford played best for the visitors.

Next Saturday the locals play Tye and a great game is expected as the rivalry between the two concerns is very keen.

The Smith and Dove team is showing much improvement under the coaching of Mr. Sidley and much interest is being shown by the players. He has three pitchers who are capable of doing good work, Ellsley, Porter and Sullivan and games will be arranged with some of the Industrial teams of Lawrence. The Uswoco team is scheduled to play here on Tuesday evening, August 3rd.

Andover 7—Beverly 6

Andover K. of C. defeated Beverly K. of C. on the Andover playground Saturday afternoon, 7 to 6. A double play, Welch, O'Connell to Bowman, nipped a rally started by Beverly in the ninth.

Beverly scored four in the first and Andover three. Beverly got another in the third, while Andover picked up a run in the fourth, tied the count in the fifth and in the seventh, Beverly again took the lead. But in the last half, Andover scored two and won the game.

Trow led at the bat, getting three hits. Pat Donovan staged a "come back" and as the game went along he improved.

Peanut Oil Output Shows Gain

Cold-pressed virgin peanut oil, a new American product, is becoming a formidable competitor of olive oil, say specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture. The fine flavor and excellent keeping qualities of the cold-pressed peanut oil make it a most desirable household oil.

The cold-pressed oil is made by a process different from that of the hot-pressed peanut oil, which until recently was the only peanut oil made in considerable quantity in the United States. The cold-pressed oil has a characteristic flavor, pronounced by many consumers to be far more delicious than the oils which are hot pressed and subjected to a refining process which leaves them practically tasteless. Cold-pressed oil when made from sound, sweet nuts need not be refined, and therefore retains its natural flavor.

This oil is highly nutritive and is as readily digestible as the best olive oils. It makes delicious French and mayonnaise salad dressings and is a high-class cooking oil, especially when used for deep frying. Many discriminating housekeepers, who during the war turned to the cold-pressed peanut oil for table use because they could not obtain the usual supply of olive oil, found it to be so delicious and so satisfactory for table use that they now prefer to it.

The production of peanut oil, including both the cold-pressed and the hot-pressed, in the United States has increased from 151,000 pounds in 1912 to 9,331,000 pounds in 1918, an increase of more than 21,000 per cent. The importation of peanut oil increased from 7,626,000 pounds in 1912 to 68,106,000 pounds in 1918. Practically all the imported peanut oil is hot pressed. Complete statistics for 1919 are not yet available.

It is apparent, say specialists, that cold-pressed peanut oil is winning for itself a place on the American table justified by its flavor, nutritive value, and digestibility.

Don't borrow trouble with the intention of returning it with interest.

Gainaday
Washer Wringer

All who are interested in electric washers have learned that this machine is considered one of the best made. A gentleman whose name is Gainaday of the same type that I am showing every day in connection with his business line in Andover, noticed one in my window and came in to say this to me:

"I see you sell the Gainaday Washer and I want to tell you that I think it is the best in the market as I have been using one constantly every day for over a year in my business and have found it entirely satisfactory."

If you are interested I will give you this gentleman's name that you may find out more particulars.

The West Church Sunday School picnic committee have thought best this year to hold a lawn party on the church grounds on Saturday, July 31st from three to seven, instead of the usual picnic. Sports have been planned and a good time may be expected.

The regular meeting of Andover Grange will be held on Tuesday, July 27th. As this is the only July meeting let each member make an extra effort to be present. The lecture hour is in charge of Mrs. George M. Carter and she announces a speaker from the Essex County School at Hathorne.

Shoes for Fall

In the shoe trade, cancellations are showing signs of coming to an end, according to advices from various manufacturing centers. Liquidation sales continue in many cities of the country—two having been started within the past week or so in New York. But the indications are that the worst of the trouble is passing. Retailers have placed about fifty per cent of their fall orders, on an average, with the honors about evenly divided between boots and low footwear.

Black and two or three shades of brown will be the favored leather colors for fall fashionable shoes, with popularity honors about evenly divided between boots and low footwear. Footwear of moderately conservative lines is expected to be strongly favored for various reasons. One of the most important ones is the insistent demand of the public for shoes of the same high quality to which people have grown accustomed, at lower prices.

Full styles for shoes indicate a decided tendency for lower heels. Military and Cuban heels, with a fair percentage of Baby Louis heels, will be the popular merchandise for general wear. Full Louis heels will be in little demand, except for formal dress shoes. Dry Goods Economist.

NORTH ANDOVER

Monday, July 19 The members of Troop 3, Boy Scouts, of St. Paul's parish report a very pleasant time at their week-end camping out at "The Homestead," School Committee Charles A. Appleton's place, Dale street.

The annual tour of the county farms by the Essex County Farm Bureau will be held on September 2nd. Special attention will be paid to the apple and corn crops.

Ring-neck pheasants were seen this morning in the River district. It is believed they are from a consignment recently sent by the state fish and game commission and liberated in the woods of Bradford.

Representative James W. Robertson of High street will remain in the contest for the Republican Senatorial nomination in the Fifth Essex district, notwithstanding Senator Butler's withdrawal from the Congressional fight in favor of Alderman Maloney of Lawrence, and the announcement that he would again seek the Senatorial nomination.

Wednesday, July 21 An important meeting of the local post, American Legion, has been called for next Monday evening, July 26th at the North Andover clubhouse on Middlesex street at 7.15 o'clock. Delegates to the state convention are to be chosen and other important business transacted.

Judge Newton P. Frye of Elm street is passing a few days at Higgins beach, Me.

Dr. C. M. Saville has completed a special course in anatomy at Tufts Medical School. Arrangements are being made by the Passaconaway Campfire Group for a lawn party to be given on the lawn at the North Parish parsonage Chestnut street, in the center,

Friday afternoon, July 30th, beginning at 3.00 o'clock. One of the features will be a play entitled "The Bide-a-Wee Bears." County Commissioner Jas. C. Poor of North Andover has filed papers for the Republican re-nomination.

LAWRENCE

Monday, July 19 Bishop Arthur Wheelock Moulton of Utah, former rector of Grace Episcopal church, preached in Grace church yesterday morning. He arrived here Saturday and will remain in this vicinity until September when he and his family will take up their residence in Salt Lake City.

The Commission of the Department of Public Utilities has ordered a hearing for August 14th on the petition of the Lawrence Gas company for permission to increase the price of gas from $1.25 net.

The hearing will be held in Boston at 10.30 a.m. The City Council voted this morning to seek a conference with William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, for the purpose of securing information in regard to the closing of the Company's four local mills.

This action was taken when Mayor William P. White stated that Mr. Wood had, through a representative, agreed to meet him some time today.

It was unofficially reported about the city Monday morning that the overseers and firemen employed in the American Woolen Company mills in this city which are now shut down have been ordered to report at their stations next Monday morning. This is taken as an indication that the mills will shortly start up again at least on part time.

Delegates of Massachusetts State District Union No. 1 of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers from all over the Commonwealth assembled in Bugbee hall Monday morning at the opening meeting of their two-day convention which is being held in Lawrence, Monday and Tuesday.

Approximately 1000 employees of the Acadia Mills enjoyed an outing at Canobie Lake Park, N. H., Saturday afternoon.

Mayor White intended to discuss the expediency of the shutdown of American Woolen Company plants in the city and to try to have President Wood make some arrangements so that craftsmen in the employ of the company will not leave this city to make their homes elsewhere.

Unable to secure cement, Alderman John F. Finnegan stated this morning that he intended to use a bituminous substance for a base in pavement work on Franklin street. He says Elm street in Manchester, N. H., is constructed along this line and that it is standing up well.

Wednesday, July 21 Members of the State Waterways Commission headed by Chairman John N. Cole of Andover, made a personal view of the Merrimack river this morning with the object of securing information for use in a report on soundings to be made in the vicinity of the Central Bridge in the near future. They were met at the bridge shortly after 11.00 o'clock by members of the City Council and Chairman John J. Donovan of the bridge commission.

—Ralph B. Moulthrop of Grove street was unanimously nominated for the position of inspector of animals, to succeed the late Dr. John E. Winchester at Monday's special meeting of the City Council.

Mr. Moulthrop is the only local veterinarian at the present time, Mayor White said. The state board of animal industry was formally notified of the appointment, as required by law. The position carries a salary of $250 a year.

No worthy case of suffering among the employees of the American Woolen Company mills in this city during the shutdown will go unheeded, according to President Wood of the company, who states that he has already provided for those who may be in need during the shutdown, which has been in effect for days so far.

Atty. Benjamin C. Ames of 511 Lowell street has taken out papers for the Republican nomination as representative in the seventh district.

METHUEN

Monday, July 19 George Gregory of 70 Berwick street in the Pleasant Valley district was arrested late Thursday afternoon by City Marshal Harry Nimmo and Officers James Walsh, Cyril Feugal and Arthur Bower, who made a successful raid and secured a copper still together with two barrels of mash, fermented and ready for the still.

The still and samples of the mash are at the station as evidence. The first annual outing and get-together of the employees of the Acadia Mill was held there was the fat men's race which proved the best event of the day.

The first race was a dead heat between Elmer Gohren and Walter Fletcher. The tie was run off later and was won by Gohren.

Another feature was the running of William and Harold Robinson, father and son, in the three-legged race, coming in second in a large field of starters.

The girls' relay and potato race also proved exciting events, the girls conducting themselves like old-timers, and proved a grand success. The day was ideal and over 1100 employees representing every department united in making the first outing one long to be remembered.

William Robinson was in charge of the sports and the first event, a ball game of five innings between the Acadia mill team and Robinson, composed of employees, was won by the

More Sugar for You

People who have soft-pedaled the sugar bowl for six years may be interested in the statement that conditions on July 1 promised an increase in next fall's sugar production in the United States; an increase amounting to, approximately, 333,000 tons, or enough to load a train of freight cars 70 or 75 miles long, allowing 10 tons per car. This prospective crop is equal to more than 22 pounds of sugar for every man, woman, and child within the United States, and the increase over last year equals more than six pounds per person. The sugar-beet crop this year covers almost a million acres as against the 5-year average of about two-thirds of a million; and the growing condition on July 1 was above the 10-year average. There is more than half a million acres of sugar cane this year, about half of which is intended for sugar and the other half for sirup, after deducting considerable amounts for planting the next crop. There is a substantial increase in acreage over last year, especially in Louisiana, where nearly all the cane sugar of the United States is made. The growing condition of the cane in Louisiana is much better than last year but considerably under the average for the past nine years. The Department of Agriculture, which has carried on a number of projects looking toward making this country self-sustaining from a sugar standpoint, is cooperating with other agencies in protecting the crops from insects and disease and otherwise promoting the production and utilization of a bumper sugar crop. It should be borne in mind, however, that the forecast for 1920 is based upon conditions on July 1, and the actual situation would be above or below this forecast according as condition between July 1 and harvest are better or worse than average.

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominee at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocates Party Responsibility as Distinguished From Dictatorial and Autocratic Personal Rule—In Referring to League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean to Shun a Single Responsibility of This Republic to World Civilization—Favors Protective Tariff, Merchant Marine, a Small Army, Woman Suffrage and National Budget.

Marion, O.—(Special).—Warren G. Harding was officially notified here of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, members of Notification Committee, members of National Committee, ladies and gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic, and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to utter the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

WARREN G. HARDING

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one. Such domination was never intended. Tranquillity, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rendered in the catalytic war.

Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government, under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican party. Our vision includes more than a chief executive, we believe in a cabinet of a-hundred capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates. In whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a house of Congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial co-operation along with the restored functions of the senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world.

International Relationship.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and Europe's misunderstanding of America's might have been avoided. The Republicans of the senate halted the barrier of independent American eminence and influence, which it was proposed to exchange for an obscure and unequal place in the merged government of the world. Our party means to hold the heritage of American nationality unimpaired and unsundered.

The world will not misconstrue. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world. We hold to our rights, and can defend, yes, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike, everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of unity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Leaving America Independent.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a senate advising as the constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great Red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toil alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received.

Production, More Production.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to grouped citizenship for political advantage. It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no truce in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people, when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for lawful authority, ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, and we are unalterably in favor of its exercise must not desert the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

No Strike Against Government.

We are so confident that much of the present-day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership, we want to expedite the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment, is losing millions to agriculture, it is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency. Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have devalued the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar, in reckless finance, we must restore its honesty.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people, but it is fair, ay, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Drive Against Extravagance.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions, which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward-looking program. The American farmer had a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task and handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will halt that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the disengagement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialist practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in ending the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farmer where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becomingly associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion, and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid not in sectional partiality but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary, helpful reformation and reveal business methods to government business.

I believe federal departments should be made more business-like and send back to productive effort thousands of federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in the protective tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine. I would have this republic the leading maritime nation of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it, and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army, but the best in the world, with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the unutterable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad, which the government should aid in expanding, both in revealing markets and speeding cargoes.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration, which are concerned with the future citizenship of the republic, not with mere man-power in industry.

I believe that every man who dons the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity, must become American in heart and soul.

I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child la-

WASHINGTON LETTER

SALIENT POINTS
OF SENATOR HARDING'S
SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

"I pledge fidelity to our country and to God, and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States."

"The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."

"The Constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none."

"We approve collective bargaining."

"Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."

"When competition—natural, fair, impelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy, we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."

"I promise you formal and effective peace as quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."

"I can hear the call of conscience an insistent voice for largely reduced armaments throughout the world."

"Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice-president, second official of the Republic, shall be asked to participate."

bor and elevating conditions of woman's employment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizenship.

I believe this government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

Taxes Must Be Reduced.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace, and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all of freedom and opportunity, all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped, uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to reclaim a stable government there, and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never warlike in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be required, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

Advocates Woman Suffrage.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, uplifting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised. In so far as congress can go, the fact is already accomplished. By party edict, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conviction this tremendous change in the ancient relation of the sexes as applied to government, I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the republic their suffrage and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people but a very common-sensical people, with vision high but their feet on the earth, with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without or menaces arise from within, there is some indefinable voice saying: Have confidence in the republic! America will go on!"

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, D. C.—The visit of Governor Cox to the White House has not been at all satisfying to that portion of the Democratic party that had hoped for a new freedom. But it goes without saying that the White House won all along the line so far as present day politics are concerned; but as to a win in November, well no sane man in this old town will bet on it with any odds at all. Not a few leading Democratic party men are through with the whole lot for with the league of nations as the issue at Mr. Wilson's suggestion all vestige of victory has vanished. Particularly bitter are Democrats from the South who were Americans through and through long before any league of nations or even the President was a factor in politics. But the issues are before the country now and from today on it will be a fight to a finish with victory for an Ohio man after all. The people of the country are asking for a change and there is only one way to get such a change as is called for and it is a safe wager that it will be on hand very soon now.

The Leaders of both parties have been here the past few days obtaining information for campaign purposes. The exercises in Ohio as to notifications are of course formal and what is said there is for future use. Much material is being gathered here. The entire record in Congress of Governor Cox is being scratched through and through and all that he is reported to have said is being examined. There will be no evading any issue and as to Senator Harding's record it is being made daily and has been a rather open affair for a long time now. The Congressional Record years after its publication cannot be tampered with like some party platforms of recent date. And the report is that the Democratic platform will be adjusted to the truth but whether with the consent of the White House or not has not been announced. That was a grave error on somebody's part and has perhaps sent not a few men against that party for all time.

The race for the next Congress is what concerns the party leaders just a little at this time. The Republicans will make the fight of their lives and as for the Democrats, the party managers here say that the House as well as the Senate will be elected overwhelmingly Democratic. But they better be not too sure of their ground. The great disadvantage of the Democratic party is what is known as the "solid South."

Of course that part of the country tells a Democratic story year after year and a look as to conditions in each of the States so termed will say that something is wrong. Too much of a one-sided opinion is bad for any nation and at this time bickerings and short-comings in almost every line of endeavor must count against anything termed "solid."

So, the Democratic majority in the South—and the Republicans are not allowed to play at all politically there in direct violation of the United States Constitution—sometimes best not be counted in July for a victory in November. If the people want a change of administration, and reports have it that there is no question but that they do, a change not of mere men but of administration, will be the only way to accomplish that desire. Then will a Congress be elected that will be Republican and that is what the big fight is to be about from now on. Senator Harding may stay at Marion all through the campaign, or he may go away, but when the announcement was made that Governor Cox was to tour the South the gravest bit of insinuation for the Democratic party was admitted. The story of Georgia and of Texas and of the other States as to the league of nations was being talked over no doubt when that bit of news leaked out. Why the South? Reports here from Democratic sources are that the fight is all over and yet that tour of the South is announced. But the Republicans welcome anything that comes along.

The Democratic leaders here again take the defeat of the North Dakota Senator, Asle J. Gronna, as a defeat for the Republicans. Well, better not be too sure for there are other States besides North Dakota and some of them are not going to return Democratic senators either. The Senate race may worry the Republicans but there are others that will worry before the votes are all counted early in November. It is true that the Republican majority in the Senate now is only two and this fact will add fuel to the flames of a thorough fight in each State where senators are to be elected. The entire campaign will be waged as never before in such a way that there will be no over lapping and repeating. A united effort will bring about the real result desired. The national, senatorial and congressional committees of the Republicans will be all really under the supervision of the national campaign plans of the national committee with Will Hays as the chief. Unity in effort will be the rule and there will be no division of plans and purposes such as were known to exist in the past. It is an open secret that the senatorship in the State of Nevada was lost to the Republicans a few years ago for the simple reason that the various committees, simply passed the work up to some one else and as a result one Mr. Newlands captured the prize when he should not have been in it for a minute. But the old days of taking and talking are over and this year all parties are being conducted along better lines of endeavor. The report of fabulous sums of both camps are more stories and everyone well knows that campaigns cost money and they should cost money for in these days of high costs there is nothing cheap. The Democrats say they will get the next Congress and likewise the Republicans. Labor says no man either Democratic or Republican can be elected unless labor says he is all right. And no man has been more of a friend of labor than Senator Cummins of Iowa, yet labor says he must be defeated because he did not do this and that and the other and the next thing to the one before and the thing that was to be done last year and was not. That is labor's programme today, but with another raise of $600,000,000 for a mere section of labor and the prospects of the public paying it all very soon leaves rather a bad taste in one's mouth. It is safe to say that the taste will be still there on that voting day in the coming November.

The league of nations is being reviewed by Colonel House. It is to be noted that the Colonel is in Europe but the wires are not censored by Mr. Burleson just at this time.

Admiral Grayson called at the White House the other day when Mr. Cox and Mr. Roosevelt visited the President. The admiral is a busy man these days of uncensored news. The Mayflower is still in the river awaiting orders.

Knit Goods

Substantial advances in the prices of lightweight knit underwear for spring, 1921, are still talked of by manufacturers. So far, the increase indicated is something like 30 per cent. Later, however, there has been such weakness in the cotton yarn market as to give hope that by the time yarns must be bought better prices can be named than now seem possible.

Apparently there is nothing else than yarns in which a recession of cost is to be expected, as coal, labor, etc., are still advancing or are likely to do so. It is practically impossible for yarn costs to decline sufficiently to enable producers to take orders for finished goods at anything like last year's prices; but with yarn consumers holding off buying and some mills curtailing production, the market is so narrowed that more favorable yarn prices are considered almost sure to materialize.

JOHN BURKE

John Burke, one of Ballardvale's older residents, passed away at his home on Andover street last Monday morning after a short illness. He was born in Ireland, seventy-eight years ago, but came to this country when a young man and, with the exception of a few years spent in Scranton, Pa., has made his home in the village, where he made many faithful friends.

Mr. Burke, until ill health forced him to retire, was employed as a summer in the Bradley Mills. Although not able to work during these last years he was able to be about until recently. His wife, who was Margaret Ryan, died several years ago. He leaves eight children to mourn his loss. They are: Mrs. Frank Joseph of Providence, R.I.; William, Mary, John, Eva, Florence, Margaret, Grace and Sister Euphrosia, of Saginaw, Mich.

The funeral was held in St. Joseph's church, Ballardvale, Wednesday forenoon at 9 o'clock. High mass was

John D. Blackshaw

Successor to F. E. WHITING

Andover, Mass.

A native of Andover, whose home is now in the middle west received some Townsman clippings from an unknown hand sometime in June. She writes the following letter, and if this comes to the notice of any of her old friends or schoolmates perhaps they will be willing to write her the Andover news.

The address is Mrs. Charlotte B. Morgan, R2, Box 17, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

"June 19th, I received clippings from Andover, one of which contained an obituary notice of the death of Miss Helen Winslow Battles.

"The first thing that struck my eye was my own name, Charlotte Wardwell. I was named for my father's sister—her name being Charlotte Wardwell Battles and mine Charlotte Battles Wardwell. I do not know who sent the clippings to me, but for a long time I have wanted to get in communication with old Andover. I will not weary you with further details, but ask as a very great favor if you will send me a copy of a weekly paper published there, so that I can get the name of the paper and the terms. It is a long way to send a paper regularly, but I intend to subscribe for it, hoping I may hear from or about some of my old friends and schoolmates. Enclosed find stamps for postage on paper.

"Please pardon an old lady for asking so much of you, an entire stranger and putting you to so much trouble."

The plan to publish a history of the military and civilian activities of Andover in the great war reminded Dr. Abbott of a similar record of Andover in the War of the Rebellion which he carried with him to Tuesday evening's special town meeting.

It is a volume of more than 231 pages, printed in 1875 by Warren E. Draper. The publishing of the record was authorized by votes passed as follows at the annual Town Meeting in March of 1874:

"Voted: To print the Record of the Town of Andover during the Rebellion which has already been prepared by Samuel Raymond, and that every voter in town have a copy of the same if desired.

"Voted: To appropriate the sum of One Thousand Dollars to carry the same into effect.

"Voted: That a committee of three be appointed by the Chair."

In accordance with this vote, Samuel Raymond, Francis H. Johnson and James B. Smith were appointed.

Samuel Raymond tells in the preface how he first came to undertake the compiling of the material which was afterwards used in the printed volume.

"It was in 1870, five years after the Rebellion had been suppressed, that the people of the Town proposed to erect, in honor of its sons who had sacrificed their lives in the war. The enterprise having been successfully inaugurated, I was chosen by my associates on the Building Committee to prepare a roll of the honored dead, to be placed under the corner-stone. The time for preparation was very brief; but, with such material as was then at hand, a list of forty-six names was furnished. Subsequent investigation proved this list to be incorrect, in that it embraced the names of six men who, at the time of their decease, were serving on the quotas of other towns.

"In preparing the rolls for the tablet, as I had both ample time and leisure, it was my purpose, not only to correct the former roll, but to prepare that Register which the Town had failed to make during the progress of the Rebellion, to record all action of the Town on affairs pertaining to the war, and collect any other kindred matter, whether local or otherwise, that might be of interest or use in the future, and to present the volume when completed to the Memorial Hall.

"It is exceedingly gratifying that the manuscript volume has in all cases received the unqualified commendation of the many prominent citizens who have carefully examined its pages, and that the Town has not only granted me a very liberal gratuity, but has ordered the publication of the present volume for gratuitous distribution among its citizens."

Beginning with an account of the meeting held in response to a call of seven hours' notice on the 18th of April 1861, only six days after the bombardment of Fort Sumter and three days after President Lincoln's call for volunteers, the active participation of Andover in the War of the Rebellion is recorded, including accounts of the meetings of the citizens, votes of the town and personal army records. Mention is made of all the military organizations in which the town was represented in the war; and, in connection with the names of those who served in each one, a list of its engagements and statistics is given. In the case of the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery—one of the companies of which was wholly composed of soldiers from Andover and the rolls of which contain the names of more than one-third of all the soldiers furnished by the town, a full history of the Regiment was made.

The American Legion has a much larger task to prepare a record of Andover's six hundred soldiers and sailors, but the available records and the promptness with which the work is to be undertaken should help to simplify the undertaking.

Invitation to Northampton

The following letter has been received by Chairman Bartlett H. Hayes from the headquarters of the Republican League of Massachusetts relative to the official notification of Governor Calvin Coolidge. The League is planning to run special trains to Northampton and members are invited to join the party.

July 20, 1920

Mr. B. H. Hayes,

Andover, Massachusetts.

Dear Sir:

Governor Calvin Coolidge, the nominee of the Republican Party for Vice-President, is, as you probably know, to be formally notified of his nomination at Northampton, July 27th, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The Republican League of Massachusetts, which was in a large measure responsible for Governor Coolidge's great majority in the election of last fall, is desirous that the League may be represented by its membership on this important occasion.

Massachusetts for the first time in a half century has been honored by having an illustrious son chosen for this great office. We are, therefore, writing to ask you as a leader of the League in your district, if you will see that all members are notified and invited to attend the notification exercises.

President Neilson of Smith College has invited the notification committee to hold the exercises on the College Campus.

May we hear from you at your earliest convenience as to the probability of a large attendance from your Branch?

Hoping to receive your active and enthusiastic co-operation and with best wishes for your success, I remain

Cordially yours,

CHARLES NICHOLS, Secretary

Graves of Massachusetts Dead to be Cared for

By the appointment of Governor Coolidge and the approval of the Council the Commission "to ascertain the most appropriate methods of caring for the graves of Massachusetts dead in foreign countries", and for other purposes has entered upon its duties.

The Commission believes that the General Court in shaping the bill had, in particular, the desire to bring the greatest measure of comfort and of consolation to the fathers and mothers and widows of those who gave their all to their country.

Millions entered the service and nearly 75,000 did not return. Of these nearly 5,000 were from Massachusetts.

It is the duty of the nation and of the Commonwealth to see to it that the graves of these heroes, so long as their bodies remain in foreign soil, shall be lovingly preserved and cared for, maintaining the ideals that govern in the cemeteries of America.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts desires that this Commission do just these services for her hero dead, and, in addition, supervise the exhumation and transport to the United States of such bodies as the nearest of kin express a wish shall be forwarded to the home cemeteries. The Commission has evidence that about 3,000 of these bodies lie in foreign soil.

The Commission is undertaking—1. To photograph the cemeteries in which our dead lie, and also the cross or star that marks the individual grave and definitely to locate and describe the vicinity of the cemetery.

2. To establish the identity of Massachusetts dead now among the "unidentified."

3. To photograph and to describe as accurately as possible the dug-out, trench and battlefield connected with the last few days of the activities and the death of each individual.

To accomplish any considerable measure of all this, the Commission must have the hearty co-operation of—

1. The close companions of the dead.

2. The American Legations, and in particular, the chaplains.

3. Workers connected with the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army, and the hospital service.

4. Records of town and city clerks.

5. The churches and fraternal organizations that maintained service flags.

This circular letter is an appeal to all organizations and individuals who have information that will be helpful to the Commission, to report in writing the facts as they know them forthwith, or better still, to call upon the Commission at their office in the State House, Rooms 371 and 372.

Telephone, Haymarket 1000.

WALTER A. ROBINSON, Chairman

COLONEL EDWARD L. LOGAN, LIEUT. AXEL E. ZETTERMAN (Navy)

In brief, we wish to know—

1. The names of all Massachusetts dead of World War within your knowledge.

2. Organization.

3. Date of death.

4. Place of burial.

Use Less Sugar in Jellies and Jams

One-fifth to one-quarter less sugar can be used in making jelly and jams, experiments made by household experts in the United States Department of Agriculture experimental kitchen indicate.

Another sugar-saving wrinkle tested by the experiment kitchen is to add one-quarter teaspoon of salt to each cup of fruit juice for jelly or pulp for jam, marmalade, and conserve. In the case of nonacid fruit this makes the absence of the full amount of sugar less noticeable. The salty taste will disappear after the product has stood for a few weeks, but the flavor will be much richer for the addition of the salt. Salt was so used in England during the war, and the method suggested, was based on reports of the process.

With fruits of pronounced flavor, or where lemon and orange peel or spers are used for flavoring those with mild flavor, various syrups take the place of part of the granulated sugar. Usually half and half is the proportion used in substitution.

Cheerfulness is about the only contagious thing we aren't afraid of.
